

Jim Ekberg

From: <MFDoyl@aol.com>
To: <info@mtacre.com>
Sent: Thursday, January 29, 2004 10:09 PM
Subject: (no subject)

You are such wimps. Afraid to reveal who you are. Afraid to reveal who supports you. Scribbling you unsubstantiated B.S. on a website anonymously is just a high tech version of writing on the bathroom walls. How pathetic you are. Never accomplished one good thing for anyone around here and afraid to run for office to gauge just how little support you have.

Ring that bell Artie, and your cohorts. How does it feel fronting for an international union whose top leadership are all running in to cut a deal to reduce their prison time?

I'll tell you what, pick the time and place and Tony and I will set up an open discussion and debate before the assembled membership. Then you guys can come out from under you rock and support your rhetoric in the clear light of day.

Proudly,

Michael Doyle

From: <MFDoyl@aol.com>
To: <jkdk40@optonline.net>
Sent: Thursday, March 25, 2004 6:22 PM
Subject: Re: response to your e-mail

James:

So nice to hear from you. Hope that all is well with you and yours. I am glad to see that you have found a hobby to occupy your time and release your stress and anger. These are certainly stressful times.

In case you have not been notified we have taken care of your annual request for an August vacation. Please, no thank you's for me, Dick Gunderman is the one who deserves the credit.

Fraternally yours,

Michael Doyle
 General Chairman
 ACRE Local Division 9

From: <MFDoyl@aol.com>
To: <jkdk40@optonline.net>
Sent: Friday, March 26, 2004 7:47 AM
Subject: Re: vacation change

James:

So bitter, so sad. I am glad to see that you vent your anger out on me. Hopefully your family does not have to suffer for it. You really should talk to someone about this obsession. Try to cheer up and relax, life is short.

Michael